Mobiles getting more and more to be pain
in neck

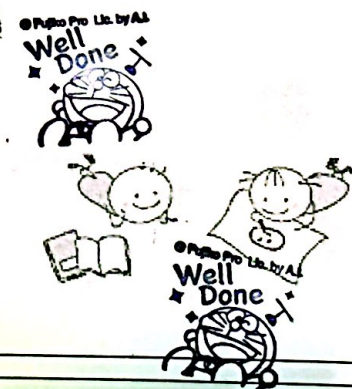

Details

Nowadays, more and more younger people are suffering spinal problems due to they use their mobile phones for a long time day by day. Teenagers spinal have decay symptoms. However, it usually happen in people at the age 40. The younger children are very serious too because they spend ^{a lot of} ~~many~~ time on tilting the head to do homework and carry the heavy school bags. The mother said she was so worried when her nine-year-old daughter got checked. The chiropractor told her that her daughter's spine was cured in an S-shaped and was the most serious case among all the children tested that day. The mother noticed that her daughter would sometimes sit or walk in a wrong posture but she did not realize.

Picture

The spine suffers as youngsters focus on their mobile devices, chiropractors said. SINGTAO

Quotes

It was a big deal. Some of the primary school children's parents don't know how to improve their children's posture. I think that the people no matter teenagers or primary students shouldn't spend plenty of time on using electronic product. They should spend more time on their study instead. The parents also need to pay attention on their children's posture.
